

September 4, 2010

To: Secretary Duncan,* OCR, DOJ and c.c.

The selective testing of English and math along with competitive funding is unconstitutional. Whole-child ed is dead – especially for the “disadvantaged” – but working together, we can activate on a journey for fundamental reform to public education. To know more, begin by reading the attached table of contents and introduction to the Great Selective Testing Bubble. Please join us!

http://allartsallkids.org/1_expose4.pdf
http://allartsallkids.org/2_reference.pdf

*Secretary Duncan: your personal response is requested. Thank you.

John C. Thompson
Parents for Music and Arts (PMA)
Students for Music and Arts (SMA)
<http://www.allartsallkids.org>
info@allartsallkids.org
parentsformusicandarts.blogspot.com
(626) 280-1613
(626) 280-4600 (fax)
222 E. Garvey Ave
Monterey Park , CA 91755-1812

c.c.

- 1) policy and law makers
- 2) advocates and activists
- 3) educators